'TALE OF A COW' IS SUBJECT DISCUSSED BY MEMBER LOCAL ROTARY

George R. Rea, Recently Returned From Extensive Trip
Over Part of State Tells of Observations—Dairying
Resolved to Science Today.

"The Tale of a Cow" posed a most interesting subject when George R. Rea, local bank president and member of the Bay St. Louis Rotary Club, was the principal speaker before the club at its regular luncheon meeting Wednesday at Hotel Weston.

Dairying and producing better milk has become a science, and, as Mr. Rea stated, during the discourse of his subject, there is only one certified milk dairy in the State of Mississippi.

State does not permit of a more comprehensive report of the subject as discussed, however, among the many other interesting things, Mr. Rea said, in part even though we do not report him verbatim:

For the past decade, medicine and science have endeavored to prolong the span of life. In this, they have succeeded, particularly in regard to decreasing the mortality rate among infants. Purvey of milk has contributed its share to this cause.

Milk is the principal food for infants, invalids and expectant mothers. We have heard a lot about "certified milk." What is it?

Certified milk is the highest standard and it must be pure, clean, fresh, wholesome cow's milk in its natural state, not having been heated and without the addition of coloring matter or preservatives. Nothing must be added to the milk, and nothing taken away.

Certified milk shall contain not over 10,000 bacteria per cubic centimeter and with an average of 4 percent of butter fat with a minimum of 3 1/2 percent.

For a dairy to produce Certified milk it has to qualify under the medical Milk Commission.

(a) The hygiene of the dairy, as it relates to the production and distribution of the milk.

(b) The veterinary supervision of the herd.

(c) The medical supervision of the employees.

(d) The chemical and bacteriological examinations of the milk.

Dairy buildings must be located away from other buildings, dusty roads and cultivated fields. They must be kept scrupulously clean and have cement floors, well ventilated, free from any odor and screened. All rats, flies and other insects must be exterminated. The screen wire can be charged with electricity in order to electrocute the flies.

All cows are thoroughly cleaned and bathed half hour before milking. A clean towel is used on every cow. The milker must bathe his hands before touching the teats of the cow and he must draw the first streams from each teat which contains millions of bacteria, before attaching the milking machine. The warm milk is passed through refrigerated tubes to take away the animal heat and bottled, then stored in refrigerators. Every dairy has its refrigeration plant and sterilization outfit.

A tuberculin test is made of every herd every six months and every cow tested (blood test) for abortion disease.

Milk from cows that abortion is said to cause undulant fever. All milkers are required to stand physical examinations periodically. A very strict record is kept of his medical history.

All dairies and cows are inspected monthly by health authorities. The water supply is tested several times annually. Samples of milk, taken from milk offered for sale and tested to meet bacteriological requirements. Mr. L. O. Crosby at Picayune owns the only "certified milk dairy in Mississippi. It is called "Hillcrest". However, many other dairies produce grade "A" milk.

Will Visit Hillcrest. At the conclusion of this interesting talk and discussion of so important subject as dairying and its products, it was decided by the club to visit Hillcrest, near Picayune, in the near future, when the regular Rotary luncheon would be held at Picayune.

Boy Scouts to Direct Traffic at Central School Corner Daily

Acting under auspices of Hancock County Post of American Legion, Boy Scouts of Bay St. Louis, acting under authority of city commissioners and local police department, beginning Wednesday noon of this week, will direct traffic daily on street corners of Central School building.

Local Boy Scouts have quite a number of well organized unit and are a credit to both city and county. They are well and thoroughly trained and their work to the city and public will prove not only a direct contribution to the public but will mean more for that slogan that should ever be uppermost in mind, "Safety First."

The public will remember the Boy Scouts are acting under official authority from the city, backed by the police, and their direction will be regarded as such.

ROBBERY STAGED IN CITY

W. A. McDonald & Son Victims of Thousand-Dollar
Haul By Unknown
Robbers

About 2:30 o'clock last Thursday morning, Night Watchman Bennett guarding the premises of W. A. McDonald & Son, wholesale merchants, corner Estabrook and Toulme streets, was approached by three white men. Brutally attacking him, they bound him with rope and stuffing one handkerchief into his mouth they gagged him with another.

The rope and both blood-stained handkerchiefs bear mute testimony of the assault. Carrying him away to a secluded spot, they at once proceeded with crowbar to pry open one of the windows facing Estabrook street. Backing a truck, proceeded to load it with tobacco and cigarettes involving over one thousand dollars, the junior member of the firm stated.

This consisted of fifteen cases of cigarettes and five cases of Prince Albert tobacco. Besides this nothing else seems to be missing. One man stood guard by the watchman while the other two did the work. They told Bennett the plan was to kill him, he said, but later they said they would spare his life. They said after they left he should make no attempt to liberate himself or attempt to give any alarm; that they plan to return within an hour to see if he had violated their injunctions. If he had, they said, they would deal with him.

Bennet loosened himself shortly before 6 o'clock and at once gave the alarm.

It is expected the job was pulled off by professionals, possibly a truck and men from New Orleans, it was said. Men who have been pulling off similar stunts elsewhere, as reported from other sections of the Coast.

Tracks of the truck tires were plainly visible but of no value in further tracing the identity of the men. The affair was one of the boldest and biggest jobs yet pulled off in this city. It is hoped the authorities, both city and county, will prove unrelenting in their efforts to ferret out the criminals and see that proper punishment is meted out.

It is impossible for the committee to personally solicit everyone, so they use this medium and extend you an invitation to join this movement and send your "Package of Food."

So, let everyone send a "Package of Food" next Monday to St. Joseph's Gym—send it anytime during the day you find it convenient—encourage your friends and neighbors to send a package, and you will enjoy the happy satisfaction of knowing you have helped the poor and needy.

St. Margaret's Daughters will be glad to learn of any poor family in need of food. Communicate with Mrs. Claude Monti, president, or any member of the organization, and the names will be placed on the list and they will receive food.

Benefit Card Game For King's Daughters Emergency Hospital

A benefit card game for Bay St. Louis King's Daughters Emergency maintenance fund is announced for next Monday afternoon at 2 o'clock, Hotel Weston. There will be an entrance prize and a prize for each and every table to the successful card contestant.

The cause is self-appealing. The hospital is carrying on a great mission of mercy. It is located in our very midst and the work is one of the greatest of local charities.

In addition to helping a worthwhile cause, in the interest of suffering humanity, an afternoon of entertainment and social pastime is an additional consideration not to be lost sight of.

Mr. Engman, although a young man, has had years of experience in the science and active management of banking, endowed with a friendly personality and will attract new friends and also prestige to the Long Beach Hancock County Bank. He is well known not only in this section but along the Coast as well. Bay St. Louisans and friends elsewhere will read with interest of the substantial promotion which has come to him.

His banking experience is such that he is acquainted with all branches of banking and can assume any responsibility and discharge its obligation with marked ability. The trust could not be reposed in more efficient hands and more intelligent interpretation. Mr. Engman has already assumed his new duties as cashier and manager of the Long Beach bank.

HELP FEED THE POOR ESPECIALLY DURING THIS TIME OF YEAR

Food Package Shower November 23—Sponsored by St. Margaret's Daughters.

The committee of St. Margaret's Daughters in charge of the "Food Package Shower" to be held Monday November 23, 1931, are working vigorously to make it a success, for they realize the dire needs of the poor of our city and are grateful at the results this far attained.

There are some people who have full and plenty who never give the poor a thought, and go through life without enjoying that real heartfelt pleasure of making some poor person or family happy.

Kind readers, have you ever felt the pangs of hunger? Have your conditions ever been such, that you knew the next day you would not have food to eat? Have you ever heard your children beg for something to eat and you did not have it to give to them?

Oh! if you have, you know what this "Food Package Shower" means to the poor and needy, and you will welcome the opportunity to send your "Food Package" and you will encourage others to do the same.

It is not one's choice to be poor—it is misfortune, reverse conditions and circumstances over which they have no control, that make them such, and we who have plenty now, could have the same misfortune and be in need of help.

Do not let this opportunity pass without helping the needy of our city. Send your "Food Package" to St. Joseph's Gym next Monday, November 23. You will be helping a worthy cause—you will be doing an act of charity—you will be working in the vineyard of the Great Giver, and He will not be outdone by your generosity. He will bless you abundantly.

Let us work as one unit in this movement—charity knows no creed—it is the poor and needy we want to help.

It is impossible for the committee to personally solicit everyone, so they use this medium and extend you an invitation to join this movement and send your "Package of Food."

So, let everyone send a "Package of Food" next Monday to St. Joseph's Gym—send it anytime during the day you find it convenient—encourage your friends and neighbors to send a package, and you will enjoy the happy satisfaction of knowing you have helped the poor and needy.

DRIVE FOR ORPHANS SUNDAY, 22

Committee of Men to Begin Sunday Afternoon In Drive Over Entire City.

During Thanksgiving week there will be a general appeal for the Catholic orphanage of Mississippi. On Sunday, November 22, a committee of men will make a house to house canvass of the entire city. This drive will start about 1 P. M., and all men on the committees are asked to be at the rectory not later than 1 P. M., Sunday so the teams will start at the same time.

We feel justly proud of our orphan children and the care that they receive from the good sisters and brothers. The Catholic orphanages can accomplish more per dollar than most other institutions, because—

First the seven brothers in charge of the Boys' Home and the seven sisters in charge of St. Mary's Home for girls receive no salary whatever. They work for the honor and glory of God and are content to receive merely the necessary food, shelter and clothing for themselves—beyond this they desire nothing in this world.

Secondly, they do not limit themselves to an eight hour day, but from early morn to late at night they toil incessantly, happy in being able to turn every moment to account.

Thirdly, they are trained to the greatest economy—they turn to good use many things that might otherwise go to waste.

Not only do the sisters and brothers care for Catholics, but during the course of the past year 52 non-Catholics were cared for in our institutions.

Last Sunday Father Spengler of Gulfport gave a talk over station WGM and on the coming Sunday, November 22, Bishop Gerow, D. D., will give a talk over the same station. The hour will be 5 to 6 P. M. Listen to the program and be generous when the solicitors call upon you.

Year-Old Son of Mr. And Mrs. E. A. Lang Victim of Brief Illness.

All that was mortal of a beautiful and promising child, Gordon Willis Lang, son of Mr. and Mrs. E. A. Lang, residing on West Pass Christian beach, was laid to rest Saturday morning at St. Paul's Cemetery, Rev. Father Wm. J. Leach, officiating both at the home and cemetery, a ceremony incidental to the death of a child. Father Leach's words at the cemetery were as fitting as beautiful. Saturday was the child's birthday. It was singular and pathetic that he should have passed away from the bosom and love of his parents on his first birthday. Although three other sons survive, the "baby" was the idol of the family. He was a beautiful and most lovable child. Many flowers manifested the great sympathy felt for the bereaved young parents, flowers of unusual size and vibrant color, in addition to the white ones that were typical of the innocence of the departed one and emblematical of the purity of the young soul.

Such an abundance of flowers and the presence of so many friends is a factor of consolation, in addition to the resignation of God's will be done, a fulfillment of "Suffer Little Children to Come Unto Me."

Mr. and Mrs. Lang are well known along the Coast, and none the less in Bay St. Louis. They can rest assured there is a great heart-felt sympathy felt for them wherever known.

His body remaining nearly two days before it was finally identified, J. Seymour LeBlanc, Bay St. Louis resident and merchant, died Wednesday when he was discovered ill in the rest room of Lowe's State Theater, at New Orleans. Unknown and unidentified, he was taken in an ambulance to the hospital where it was discovered by medical men in attendance that he had passed away. His death was said to be due to an affliction of the heart known as angina pectoris, with other complications.

It was the custom of Mr. LeBlanc to spend every Wednesday in New Orleans, purchasing for his store. Failing to return home Wednesday night his family here became alarmed and a diligent search was made. His identity, however, was not revealed until Friday, when made by Louis J. Torre, 2557 Bayou Road, former president Consumers Biscuit Company, of which Mr. LeBlanc had been former treasurer and member of the board of directors.

The remains were prepared for burial and the funeral took place Sunday afternoon from a New Orleans funeral home, ceremonies at the church of the Sacred Heart, out Canal Street, and burial at Metairie Cemetery, and which was largely attended, as the deceased was both well connected and kindly known. Originally from St. James Parish, La., later from New Orleans, and the last several years a resident and business man of Bay St. Louis.

In the death of Mr. LeBlanc Bay St. Louis has sustained a distinct loss. He was widely known as a successful business man and had a clientele that extended over the county and along the coast.

He is survived by his wife and four children, two married daughters, Mrs. Ina Piazza of Chicago, Mrs. Yvonne Kira of New Orleans, Miss Evan LeBlanc and one son, Joseph S. LeBlanc, Jr.

THANKSGIVING, 1931.

THANKSGIVING DAY, 1931, finds the people of the United States in something of a financial stringency in the midst of circumstances that are well known and most unusual.

The people of Bay St. Louis, however, are not among those who wish to find fault with a Creator in whom they have a cherished faith. They manage to believe that some guiding hand is at the helm of things eternal, and that material matters of the world are not, perhaps, as important to the individual as many might think.

The Echo feels sure that there will be no lack of grateful prayers on the occasion of Thanksgiving Day. Surely, as a people, we have much left to us for which we should retain abundant gratitude. Our lot is so much better than that of many peoples that it would seem churlish to become lost in the envy of bygone bounty.

Individually, we are sure, our citizens have much to be sincerely appreciative of. None of us are so bad off that we could not be much worse. Few of us have suffered hardships in proportion to our real deserts. All of us are ahead of the game when it comes to earthly blessings.

Why palaver about it? Let us return to the worship of the Great Father of us all, let us render thanks to Him who guides the universe and sets the bounds of the individual's achievements. It is no time to essay judgment upon God; rather let us be humble, realizing our true unworthiness and actual need for additional divine help and guidance as we tread the pathways of our mortal lives.

A HARD STRUGGLE.

Ship owners seem to face a hard struggle with American merchant marine upon the high seas. During and after the World War the United States made a great effort to build ships and temporarily, at least, gained high rank in carrying the world's commerce.

Yet, under the renewed competition of other countries our shipping has gradually declined. During the past ten years it has dropped nearly three and one-half million tons while Germany has increased her tonnage a little more than that and Great Britain and Japan by about a million tons each.

Recently, a group of American shippers formed the largest pool in our history taking over about 181 sea-going ships, and will operate them upon a non-competitive, co-operative system of schedules. If this project fails, the future for American shipping will be even worse than it is now.

"ALL FOR ONE."

THE railroads of this country are being gently prodded into swearing allegiance to the formula of The Three Guardsmen, namely, All for One and One for All. At least, this will apply to the securities issued by the railroads throughout the country.

For years railroad bonds have been used by insurance companies and trust institutions as a logical place in which to invest their huge funds; so much so, in fact, that these institutions today own practically four-fifths of United States railroad bonds. Economic conditions recently have hurt the railroads in two ways, by the depression and by the new, stiff competition of automobiles and modern highways.

Faced with this problem, the railroads went to the Interstate Commerce Commission and asked for a freight rate increase of fifteen per cent. The Commission handed down a decision which allowed increases on various commodities, none of which were as high as requested, confined largely to commodities which are almost compelled to use the railroads for transportation. This was good enough for the railroads not as much as they asked for, but a considerable help, estimated to increase their revenue during the next year or so by more than a hundred million dollars.

However, there was a condition attached, and this caused the railroads some heavy thinking. The condition was that all revenue from these increases must be put in a common fund which would be used to pay the fixed charges on the bonded debts of any railroads which found themselves unable to meet them. So, while the railroads are separately owned by their various companies, the adoption of this plan would make the entire railroad system of the nation guarantee to investors interest on the bonds issued by any railroad.

Such an event is a strange thing for a capitalistic country, yet at the present time it is wise and sensible. It will have a good effect on railroad bonds, keeping them in the class of securities in which insurance and investment companies can legally place their funds.

"POETRY ON THE FOOTBALL FIELD."

NEVER in this section has a football victory been acclaimed with such enthusiasm and significance as that of Saturday afternoon last when Tulane's famous Green Wave ran a score of 20 to 7 against Georgia University at Athens, reported to have been witnessed by fifty thousand people.

Tulane's success of course means ours. . . . Louisiana's joys are ours. Linked by not only such close geographical lines but bonded closer by ties of sentiment and other elements that make it more binding, all that affects our sister State is of interest particularly to this local section.

But more particularly and directly are we interested when two of the outstanding members of the Tulane squad are bona fide residents of Bay St. Louis—all their lives, and it was not surprising then that a great multitude of Bay St. Louisans and Bay-Waveland resident Orleansians turned out in great multitude to welcome the returning trains Sunday forenoon going through, en route from Athens, and home-bound.

Both Glover and Scaife are graduates from our own St. Stanislaus college, matriculating at Tulane directly from S. S. C. and have shed lustre not only academically to their Alma Mater but to their local training and athletic prowess. Tulane won a great victory. Ralph Wheatley, resident manager of the Associated Press Bureau at New Orleans says "The Green Wave can lick any football team in the world. If there was any doubt of that fact, it was washed away today in the greatest gladiatorial contest ever seen on the gridiron."

"Fifty thousand people witnessed the game and some of them crossed the continent to see it and it was worth it."

"They saw more than football game. THEY SAW POETRY ON THE FOOTBALL FIELD." Congratulations to Tulane, to New Orleans, all honor to whom honor is due, and not forgetting our own two Bay St. Louisians.

INN-BY-THA-SEA TO RE-OPEN SOON.

INN-BY-THA-SEA, famous hotel located on the Bay of St. Louis, and opposite this city, is just now in the midst of that animation which precedes the opening of the winter tourist season.

Manager Martin has a force of men reconstructing the beach spaces and gardens into new landscape proportions and features preparatory to the formal opening, which definite date has not yet been selected but will be at no distant time. The miniature golf course, said to be one of the more attractive and beautiful originations of its kind, has been "taken up" and in its place lawns and formal gardens will by sheer beauty compel the eye. Miniature golf, it would seem is passe. In most places it served as a fad and its popularity faded away within a most unbelievably short time.

Manager Martin is back home from Chicago, where he set with the board of directors of Edgewater Beach and Edgewater Gulf hotels, affiliated, and controlling management of Inn-by-the-Sea, and is imbued with the interest the managing owners of the place manifested during their deliberations and which marks plans for the future.

A thorough renovation of the entire place is in progress and on the formal opening day every nook of this beautiful place will be spick and span and awaiting the usual quota of winter visitors with a warmth of cordiality and spirit of hospitality that makes for the Mississippi Gulf Coast the greatest resort of all places.

Just as it is impossible to believe all that you hear it is impossible to believe all that you think you see.

It won't be long now before the children of Bay St. Louis will be writing their letters to Santa Claus.

Everybody in Bay St. Louis ought to read a serious book once in a while just to keep the mental machinery oiled up and able to go.

VIEWS OF OUR NEWS

By Chicagoan

A Review of the News of Last Week's Echo.

CHICAGO, Ill., Nov. 17.—The date line on last week's paper showed it to have been published on Friday the 13th, a day on which some might expect anything to happen in a print shop, from the devil "piling a form," on down.

But of course, City Marshal Finhold of Pass Christian will insist that days other than Friday the 13th, can bring their snare of bad luck. He probably wonders whether any of us can point to a day more unlucky than was the one on which he fractured his ankle while chasing hobos. No getting around it, that was a most unlucky day for Mr. Finhold and all his friends sympathize with him in his misfortune. They and he both wish that the accident could have been averted. But then Marshal Finhold is able to make the wish and so he's luckier than he might have been at that.

In the Henry Osinach household so our local writer reports, there has come a new voice, and a new face, bringing with them light and happiness to the others of that happy family group. The day of the arrival has been duly written in the family record and it is still more indelibly impressed upon the minds of the fond parents. Do you think for a moment that had little John II postponed his coming until Friday, anyone could be convinced there was anything but good fortune connected with the day.

The members of the Tiny Rock football team may suspect that there was a hoodoo lurking about somewhere when the hosts of St. Stanislaus Day School descended upon them to trample out a 25 to 0 victory. The players only suspect that but the enthusiastic fans are certain that a jinx played in a Stanislaus uniform even though it could not be seen from the sidelines. The winners, and their supporters will not admit that luck played such an awful big part in Thursday's game. In their opinion, victory came to their side because of superior playing and generalship.

If you have pity to bestow prepare to divest yourself of it now! Through an underground channel there has come to be a tale of the plight of a lonely resident of Bay St. Louis who failed to read the interesting advertisements in last week's paper. The poor chap is in possession of a few depression dollars which he must exchange for needed merchandise. But he's so bewildered and wonders where he can trade his dollars for the best values. The Echo told where he and all others can get the most for their money but he failed to hear the good news. Chances are you'll find this benighted soul sitting in the back room of a merchant who is still trying to get prosperity prices for his wares and is careful not to advertise. There the two of them find consolation in filling each other's ears with tales of the terrible situation now existing in the country and agreeing that there ought to be a law passed about something or other.

A stroke of well planned good fortune enabled the members of the Bay St. Louis Rotary Club to listen to Hon. F. A. Wright at the Armistice Day luncheon. They were privileged to hear the clear thoughts of a modern philosopher expressed in words that will long be remembered. Not every one is lucky enough to hear Mr. Wright's good talk. 'But to them the Echo brought last week's comprehensive account of the speech which impressed all readers with the knowledge the speaker had of his subject.

Reading the program of the radio concert given by the Bay St. Louis Juvenile Orchestra Sunday I was reminded how little has been added to the nation's music during the so called prosperous days of the past years. The classics have passed on the minds of the men on the street and are only appreciated by the students of music. The sweet melodies sung by our mothers bring smiles because of their quaintness. No longer does the great lover express his passion in the strains of "Annie Laurie." Poor Annie, she's descended into something termed a "Hot Mama!" Perhaps it took a depression to rid our social body of the effects of a jazz age. Maybe in a few years we'll shudder at Jazz tunes while, pleasant in our ears will be ringing such music as was heard last Sunday over WGCM.

A deary cloud cast itself over Waveland's sky as the news went abroad that William H. Ruhr was no more. Beloved by all who knew him, with only the little faults that make each of us human instead of a deity, the departure of Mr. Ruhr leaves a void in the community that can never be filled. Those nearest and dearest to the deceased will not notice the darkened skies of the November days that are yet to come. All their days have darkened. But through the clouds there comes a bright light—the memories of a noble man, and the example set by a well lived life.

SPORTS AT STANISLAUS

PICAYUNE DEFEATS ROCKS.

Last Saturday the Rocks were defeated by the Picayune representatives by a score of 20-7. In passing this was the same score as the Tulane Georgia game; only reversed in our case.

For some unknown reason the Stanislaus machine was unable to function properly during the game for any length of time. Every man in the red and black fought valiantly, and every one deserves much praise for his spirit. It was just a bad day for S. S. C. But Laurel, watch out!

JUNIORS VS. AUDUBON TIGERS, SUNDAY, NOV. 15.

The Junior Team played a good game and fought until the whistle blew for the close of the game. The score was 7-0 with the second defeat of the season for the Juniors. The only touchdown was made in the first quarter and the rest of the game the ball sometimes came close to the goals only to be punted away.

Fagan, Stakelum, and C. Moss were the stars of this game. Gulotta was the Moon.

GOLDEN TORNADO LAUREL NEXT TO PLAY STANISLAUS ROCKS.

The Golden Tornado of Laurel will be next on the Rock-A-Chaw schedule at Laurel Friday night. The game should be interesting from any point of view—whether we win or not. But granting we win, it goes without saying the interest will be that much greater.

Laurel has a passer who does not hesitate to pass when and where he pleases and the joke is, that invariably there is a team-mate of his in the immediate vicinity to grab said pass from the air. They have averaged 20 to 24 passes a game—that is some passing. And do they know the measure of Biloxi High—and how, only 25 to 0. Can we beat Laurel? Sure, we can—but don't add the school girl adjective—easy, because it "ain't gonna be so." With a guy like Walters shooting passes with bullet-like precision and speed, it looks as though we must keep a weather eye on this boy and his shaggy eyes on the little boys who play end—or who were in the habit of catching these passes.

We need so-reversal of form to cover our two recent defeats in a row. I don't think it could be done any better than a win over Laurel. We are not looking forward to seeing a team that don't want 10-30-7 points but 14 would be better—but BEAT LAUREL at Laurel. Remember they must come here next year. We'd rather they come here on the offensive—we can play well and we can win if we want to show the folks of Laurel just what kind of boys we have at Stanislaus.

JUNIOR YARD NEWS.

Pass Christian High was the next team to fall under the Junior Team's destructive playing. This game was played Thursday morning at 10-30-7 clock. It was a short game due to the lateness of the Pass Christian team. "Dimples" Sandoz made the first touchdown on a forward pass from Gazon. W. Quinn scored the second touchdown on an off tackle play. In the fourth quarter the Pass team, by means of a long forward pass scored a touchdown and extra point and the game ended with a 13-0 victory for Stanislaus Juniors. W. Quinn was the main man of the team this day. Also Gulotta, Fagan, and pisson played a good game.

The Juniors are expecting to play the Audubon Tigers here Sunday.

Piercy Stakelum got sick Sunday night—he must have missed his sister terribly.

B. Lawless is now the famous stranger of the south. He undergoes his performances in the show especially.

Jack Smythe is the meanest little (Cutie) boy there is says Helen (?) but just the same I am teaching him a thing or two.

John Duffillo is a very bright boy except when he is in the class room.

William "Kid" Cortay is such a nice little boy he should be called "White Meat."

Fred Sheehy is the tightest-wad that we have ever had. He bought an Echo Tuesday so that it was such a great event that the whole college celebrated Wednesday. Wednesday was a holiday, thanks to Mr. F. Sheehy. He thinks his beautiful mouth full to teeth makes him popular.

Andrew Cunningham comes next in the popularity (Jewish) contest.

COMMENT ON SPORTS BY SHERIDAN

DEMPSEY'S FUTURE TROJANS VS. GREAT NOTRE DAME. ANDERSON COMES THROUGH. ALL-STARS IN JAPAN. MOST VALUABLE PLAYER.

Jack Dempsey is expected to go into a huddle with Eastern promoters sometime next month to definitely settle when and where, if ever, the former champion will begin another come-back trail. If the 36-year-old fighter thinks he can go the route it is probable that the Madison Square Garden Company will offer him a fight in Florida next February against one of a quartet of heavyweights, including Loughran, Risko, Uzcudon and Heeney. If Dempsey wins a bout with Sharkey in the early summer would pave the way for a championship clash between the winner and Schmeling in the fall of 1932. However, the boxing program is in the air until Dempsey shows his hand.

The annual Rose Tournament football game, to be played at Pasadena, California, on January 1st will find the Trojans of the University of Southern California pitted against an Eastern opponent which will probably come from one of the following five eleven Northwestern, Cornell, Tulane, Tennessee and Georgia. Four times out of the last six years, a Southern team has participated in this post-season classic. Three times the Southerners have won and the other class was a tie. As far as the other Eastern teams are concerned, the West Coast standard bearers have won six games, lost two and tied two.

Three weeks ago, this column warned the readers that the Notre Dame team of the current season was the equal of any other Notre Dame outfit, basing its comment largely upon the season up to the defeat of Drake. Following the terrific show of strength in the game with Pennsylvania, nearly all sports writers came to the conclusion that "there seems no reason to doubt any longer that this year's Notre Dame team is on a par with the teams of the past two years and, perhaps, a bit better."

Few detractors expected the Pennsylvania eleven to be smothered by such a score as 49-0. Heartily (Hunk) Anderson seems to have stepped into the shoes of Knute Rockne all set for speed. His raiders have clicked off at the rate of better than one-fifth of a mile a game, convincing even the most dubious that a new master of the gridiron has arrived.

Anderson's method is strikingly different from Rockne's. He is quiet almost all the time and seldom speaks but his touchdown-makers go on forever. His ability to teach football is demonstrated by the capable reserves on the present squad, said to be unequalled in Notre Dame history. So far, 57 members of the squad have seen action in this ruthless machine has run roughshod over its opponents.

News from Japan tells us that all tickets for the series of baseball games between the collegians of that country and the visiting stars from America were rapidly sold out and that speculators got as much as $20 for tickets to the first game. The American outfit won both of the first games played, with the two Japanese college nines failing to score.

The first game, we are advised, was witnessed by 65,000 people and the second game by 40,000. The fans saw the mighty Grove in action, they saw Simmons knock a home run and witnessed real diamond stars performing in apparent mid-season form. A word too, about the Japs. Any college team in this country that could hold the big stars to a reasonable score would feel pretty good. Well, the Japanese colleges have good ball players, who are playing the game in excellent style.

The most valuable player in the American League in 1931, according to the baseball writers, was no other than Robert Moses Grove, alias the greatest southpaw pitcher in history. Grove's selection was a formality, he received 78 points out of a possible 80. His record achievement of 31 and 80 games won to four lost caused him to be the second pitcher selected in the thirteen years of the award. Gehrig, with 59 points, and Simmons, with 51 were the runners-up.

The players who have received recognition as the most valuable player in the American League follow: 1911—Ty Cobb, Detroit. 1912—Tris Speaker, Boston. 1913—Walter Johnson, Washington. 1914—Eddie Collins, Philadelphia. 1922—George Sisler, St. Louis. 1923—Babe Ruth, New York. 1924—Walter Johnson, Washington. 1925—Roger Peckinpaugh, New York. 1926—George Burns, Cleveland. 1927—Lou Gehrig, New York. 1928—Mickey Cochrane, Philadelphia. 1929—Lew Fonseca, Cleveland. 1930—Joe Cronin, Washington. 1931—Lefty Grove, Philadelphia.

LETTERS FROM THE PEOPLE

LET THE CITY KEEP LIGHTS BURNING LONGER.

November 18, 1931. Sea Coast Echo, Bay St. Louis, Miss.

Dear Sir:—If I am not imposing on your kindness, will ask that you please publish this letter.

I have a kick to register and all the commuters on the early morning train join me in it.

The kick is this—we want the city lights to remain lit until six o'clock in the morning so that we can find our way to the depot.

I voice the feelings of those unfortunate brothers who have to use the proverbial "Shank's Mare" to carry them to the depot, and when it is foggy, or when the moon is off duty, and the city lights are out, they may fall over something, or collide with a post or tumble over a water plug.

We hope the City Fathers will read this letter and take steps to correct this condition.

Yours very truly, A. SUFFERER.

PETITION FOR PARDON.

TO HIS EXCELLENCY, THEO. G. BILBO, GOVERNOR, Jackson, Miss. Dear Governor:—At the September Term, 1931, of the Hancock County Circuit Court, Bay St. Louis, Mississippi, Kyrie (Art) Kyrie, was indicted and pleaded guilty to manslaughter, and was sentenced by the Circuit Judge to serve for a period of Five (5) Years in the Mississippi State Penitentiary.

Mr. Kyrie is a young man, with a wife and one small girl, who are entirely dependent upon him for support. A man was killed in Hancock County, Miss., and Mr. Kyrie and another man were indicted for murder, but Mr. Kyrie pleaded guilty to manslaughter, taking all blame for the killing upon himself, the case against the other man was not pressed. This is the first time that young Mr. Kyrie has been in trouble, and there is serious doubt as to Mr. Kyrie's guilt in this connection. It seems that he took all blame for the killing upon himself in order to protect the other fellow, and thus he gets all the credit for the killing.

In view of all the facts and circumstances surrounding this case, we believe that Mr. Kyrie should be pardoned, or at least given a suspension of sentence. We believe that he has been sufficiently punished and that the ends of public justice have been met, especially when there is such grave doubt as to his guilt.

Respectfully submitted, TOM C. CRAWFORD, D. F. GILLEY, JOHN S. GREER, AND 36 OTHERS.

FISH TO SELLERS COMMUNITY

Congressman Hall Sends Government Consignment Other News Notes From Sellers.

Through attention of Robert S. Hall, congressman of this district, Mr. C. P. Barker secured for the Sellers Community 1500 government fish (Brim): six hundred were placed in Ernest Lader's pond; six hundred in Carlos Shaw's; and three hundred in Joseph Shaw's. Mr. Barker is planning on securing more orders to be delivered in the spring.

The Sellers boys defeated the Dedaux boys 35-16 in the first basketball game of the season. Although the Dedaux boys fought with determination, they were outclassed throughout the game. The Sellers boys showed only intermittent bursts of brilliant play. Walter Shaw was high point man of the game, scoring sixteen points.

The girl teams of Dedaux and Sellers played on Seller's court Friday, November 13th. The Dedaux girls won with a score of 14-9. This was the first game of the season for Sellers. Although they were defeated, they played a hard game and are anticipating better success in the succeeding games.

Miss Causey bought choice books from the Gulfport Library for her pupils to read. The Seventh Grade have made booklets of Miss Causey's pictures of the flag of Mississippi, and outlines of the constitution. They have nearly finished their study of the History of Mississippi. They have also completed the study of Europe in their Geography and are now studying Africa. The pupils are required to draw a map and make an outline of each continent studied.

An instructive Thanksgiving program will be given in Chapel by the Seventh and Eighth grades Wednesday, November 25th.

WORK AND PLAY AT S. J. A.

SENIORS CHOOSE CLASS COLORS.

CLASS '32 has chosen its colors. "Orchid and Purple" were the colors selected by the Seniors at their class meeting last Thursday. The choice was made not only because of the symbolism of these shades but also on account of the harmonious blending of these two colors. Besides the Seniors think that "Orchid and Purple" will show up beautifully in a pennant and also make lovely stage decorations.

HOW ABOUT IT SODALISTS?

Where are most of you every morning at 7:30? Sure I know, you are either strolling around the yard or sitting in the basement or class room talking, when Mass is going on right next door to you and you could be offering it up for the Poor Souls. "Turn about is fair play" and the Golden Rule "Do unto others as you would have others do unto you" would have others do unto you as you play here as elsewhere. Sooner or later our turns must come, and then those half hours we spent at the Holy Sacrifice will be our greatest boon, our greatest treasure, then we will be made happy because in time we were mindful of those upon whom the "hands of the Lord have fallen."

There's only one week left to November, let's try to make it 100 per cent, and while we are helping others also help ourselves.

SYMPATHY.

The High School girls of S. J. A. offer their condolences to Ernie LeBlanc. The announcement of Mr. LeBlanc's death last Friday afternoon came as a shock to all the girls who hasten to assure Ernie of their prayers and heartfelt sympathy.

The Sodality will have Mass said Friday morning for Mr. LeBlanc at which Mass the Children of Mary are to receive Holy Communion in a body.

HURRY BACK, LOUISE.

The First Room girls were glad to hear of the successful operation of their classmate, Louise Lowe. They hope it will not be long before they can welcome Louise back to school again.

NOTES FOR THE SEVENTH AND EIGHTH GRADES.

The Library Club lately organized by the Seventh and Eighth Grades has been the cause of much enjoyment to its members. The girls handed in their first book reports last week and we overheard their teacher remark that these reports were most gratifying.

Several books have been added to this library. The books were a gift of Helen Martin, an Eighth grade pupil. Many thanks Helen for these books.

The seventh and eighth grades "Slang Club" is also progressing rapidly. We are told that very soon if this club continues its present efforts, all slang expressions will disappear completely from the Seventh and Eighth Grades. Keep it up girls, perhaps when you reach the high school your example may persuade some of us, your Big Sisters, to use the King's "English" at all times.

THE FOOTBALL GIRL.

Aloud she cheers the husky braves, Who fight for fun and glory, She doesn't understand the game But that's another story Just see her wild arms fling about And watch her smile and beam She's just a little football girl Who's out to cheer the team And it's a funny thing, but true It so happens that in the end The girls who understand the game Are passed up by the football men.

Veteran Resident of Wolf River Section Answers Last Summons

At his home on Wolf River in district three of Harrison county, Edmund Cuevas died Thursday night after an illness of two weeks. The deceased was born on the land where he lived his entire life, seventy-three years ago, and reared a family of three daughters who survive him. His daughters are Mesdames Thornton Shaw, E. Mr. Cuevas' brother, Lawrence Cuevas, died suddenly a few weeks ago, and in the double sorrow of the family they have the sympathy of a large number of friends.

OPINION IN MATTER AUTO TAGS

Will Failure to Pay For Tag In December Deny Owner of 12-Month Privilege?

Sheriff Joseph C. Jones, of Hancock county, has received the following opinion from the attorney general's office at Jackson, Miss., in response to the inquiry:

"Will everyone who owns cars have to purchase a license in the month of December to have a twelve months' privilege or, in other words, would he be delinquent after January first? If so would he pay for eleven months and a twenty-five per cent damages on the price of eleven months?"

Opinion

I advise that Section 5605, Code of 1920, was amended by House Bill No. 193, enacted by the Extra Session of the Legislature of 1931. This Amendment adds to the end of said section the following:

"However, where the owner of a motor vehicle does not operate the same on the streets, roads or public highways of this state between the first day of January of any year and the date he secures a license, he shall pay only the proportionate part of such tax plus 25 per cent damages for the remainder of the calendar year beginning with the first day of the month within which he secures said license as above calculated. If said fee is not paid prior to the date the license is operated on the streets, roads and public highways of this state, the same tax, fee, penalty and damage shall be collected for the full year as in the case of failure to pay during the month of December."

Under the provision of said section 5605, as amended by said House Bill No. 193, persons who own motor vehicles are due to pay the license tax on same in December of this year and said license must be paid in December of this year or they must be paid in 1931 prior to the use of such motor vehicle on the public roads and highways of the state. If the tax is not paid during December but is paid before the motor vehicle is used, then the tax is the proportionate part of the annual tax plus twenty-five per cent penalty.

To illustrate the tax levied by this section: If a person who owns a car in December pays the tax thereon in December, he will pay the usual tax. If he pays the tax in January, then he would pay the amount of tax due for one year plus a penalty of twenty-five per cent thereof. If he does not use the car in January and before he uses it in February applies for a license, he would pay 11-12 of the amount of the tax for one year plus a penalty of twenty-five per cent on the amount paid. The same rules apply in reference to the other months, that is, the proportionate part of tax for one year plus 25 per cent on the amount paid. If a person who owns a car in December does not pay the tax in December but does obtain a license, then he would pay the tax for one year and a penalty of 25 per cent thereof.

RED CROSS RELIEF IN 79 DISASTERS IN YEAR

Forest Fires, Plagues, Storms, Earthquakes, as Well as Drought, Call for Help.

The forest fires which have raged in Idaho and other western sections this year have presented a serious disaster—one of a number, in addition to the enormous drought relief problems, which have been met by the American Red Cross relief forces.

Suffering, faith and courage are contained in a story coming from the Priest River section in Idaho, told by a volunteer Red Cross worker as follows:

"Picture a happy little homestead near the banks of Priest river in northern Idaho. While father, with a little son tagging at his heels, is out tending crops and adding to the clearing, mother is at home making preparations for another arrival. Then comes the fire danger, sweeping all in its path. While father fights to protect his little home, the storm announces its arrival.

"Mother and baby are bundled in a quilt and loaded on a truck for the race through the flaming forest. Father drives the truck and the little boy sits at his mother's side, brushing away the sparks which fall like rain upon the improvised litter."

To the Red Cross worker, the mother expressed her anxiety to return to the hills to rehabilitate the little homestead. All they possessed was lost in the forest fire. The Red Cross aided all of the families and is working to help them rebuild their homes.

Altogether seventy-nine disasters called for Red Cross help and money during the year just closed. Aside from the drought, which required services of volunteer workers numbering more than 60,000, and a drought relief fund of more than $15,000,000 of which $5,000,000 came from the national Red Cross treasury, help was given in 22 fires, 13 tornadoes, eight storms and eight floods, six forest fires, four earthquakes and four mine explosions, three typhoons and three epidemics, two cloudbursts, and one each hurricane, mine cave-in and railroad accident.

Aside from a major catastrophe, such as the drought, when the whole public was asked to contribute funds for relief, Red Cross relief in these disasters was met from the organization's funds and from special local contributions. Part of each membership, subscribed to Red Cross chapters, is the relief call period from Armistice Day to Thanksgiving Day, goes toward the important work.

TUNG OIL NUT CROP READY FOR HARVEST ON MISS. GULF COAST

40,000 Pounds Expected to Be Gathered Near Escatawpa, in Jackson County

Pascagoula, Miss., Nov. 16.—The Southern Chinawood Oil Company, owners of a 1250-acre farm a few miles above Escatawpa in this county next month will begin harvesting a crop of tung oil nuts that is expected to yield 40,000 pounds of the nuts. These nuts will be sold for seed, as there is quite a demand for planting seed in this section. They will be the first commercial crop of nuts ever produced in Mississippi.

The company is incorporated under the laws of Wisconsin, with Henry Bryant of Waukesha as president. W. M. Colmer of Pascagoula is one of the directors. They first began operations here in 1928, when 100 trees were planted. In 1928 10,000 additional trees were set out, the stock coming from Florida, and not a single tree was lost of this planting. Fifteen hundred trees were planted in 1929, 15,000 in 1930, and there are now 20,000 nursery trees to be planted in the early spring of 1932. The company now has 600 acres planted, 165 acres of which contain the 10,000 trees planted in 1928, which have a full crop on them this year.

Next year 15,000 additional trees will come into full crop. The company is planning to put in a crushing plant next year, to take care of the increased production which the additional trees will bear. In addition to the Chinawood Oil Company's holdings, several farmers of the county have plantings of tung oil trees. Jim Howell of Moss Point has 160 acres planted, 15,000 trees, which will begin bearing next year, and George Leavenworth of Fourtaublen and Ocean Springs has a planting of 100 acres, besides smaller groves near Escatawpa.

VICTIM, TORTURED FOR HOURS, YIELDS CONCEALED FUNDS

Trio Flees With $830, Leaving Beaten Farmer Still Handcuffed.

Eunice, La., Nov. 13.—Gustave Fruge, negro farmer residing near this city, endured four hours of torture between 12:30 a. m. and 5 o'clock before he revealed the hiding place of $830 to three unidentified white men he told officers.

Fruges' fingernails were pulled out with pliers, while an icepick was jabbed to all portions of his body by the assailants, who stuffed his mouth with rags, the victim declared. The men then beat him over the head with pistols, using fire as a last resort to extract the information.

Fruges said he was returning to his home shortly after midnight when he was accosted by three white men claiming to be prohibition officers, who declared they wanted to search his premises for whiskey.

Entering the negro's dwelling, they covered him and his family, including a wife and several children, with guns, and bound them with wire. Fruges was then handcuffed and taken to a barn. He endured the hours of punishment, he said, hoping that someone might pass his home. The men then gathered wood and threatened to tie Fruges to a post and burn him unless he told them where his money was hidden, he declared.

Fearing the fire, Fruges said he took them to a hiding place where they obtained $830. The men then fled, one of the cars going toward Orléans, while the other headed in the direction of Chataignair, according to the negro.

Chief of Police Henry Landry, called to the scene early this morning, said the handcuffs had to be Charles Thibodeaux is continuing the investigation.

The foregoing is not only published for its news value but for the lesson to be gained therefrom. Concealed funds are not only unsafe but jeopardize the life of the owner. There are too many safe banks over the country and that a bank is the proper place to keep funds there can be no dispute.

STANISLAUS COLLEGE ECHOES

SODALITY.

The death of Mr. LeBlanc was announced and all members of the Sodality were asked to remember him in their Mass and Communions.

A letter to the Sodality from Father Lord telling us to remember our Mother in Heaven as well as our Mother in earth, was read by Toarmina. Father Lord also explained in his letter the respect due Our Blessed Lady.

There was a heated argument about members not making suggestions during the meetings. Another complaint was that no speeches were to be read. This however was overruled by a large majority of nays.

"The talks," Andrade says, "are not made for a grammatical purpose but for the interest of the members, therefore, they mean just as much whether oral or written."

Several suggestions were given for the most convenient manner of collecting visits, communions and Mission money. The one adopted was as follows: "All visits, communions, and amount of Mission money be posted on the black boards of each room every week."

Bro. Edmund tried to explain the feeling one has on making his first speech, as this was a discussion of interest at the time. "The weakness of the knees, the empty feeling, and the feeling of every one's eyes centered on the speaker were a few of the miseries the young 'speaker has to face'" says Bro. Edmund. He asked the boys to remember this and if a boy starts reading a speech to not look down on him for it.

The football game Saturday between Piquayne and S. S. C. was dedicated to St. Stanislaus Patron Saint of S. S. C.

WE WONDER WHY?

Aylesworth wanted his class pin back so bad. Richarme makes 'em shed tears, when he plays football. Breaux seems so blue and lonely now. Dees is such a photographer, yet he can't get a certain picture? Mr. Carley is raring to fight. Ty Cobb has gone the way of all crooners.

Jarroux is called "squirrel" (food). Newman is afraid that his squirrels may get hungry some day.

Taormina never misses his calisthenics. Levy believes that "calisthenics every day keeps the demerits away. Loch still likes Georgia,—ain't cured yet.

Hickman knows that L. S. U. is the greatest team in the country. Duke, a movie hater, never misses a show now.

Colvert doesn't like problems in 2nd year algebra. Talley is turning out to be the latest thing in gigoles.

Everybody is dedicating cheers and songs to La Peyronnie. Judin, is so full of "fast ones" especially about Latin.

Weatherford has such faith in her. A certain senior doesn't like the way the relays are run.

Brown and Popeye never separate for a minute during an hour on Thursday and Sunday afternoons. Bruzeau has lost his faith in all women.

J. Dufilho is called "Stuck Up." Favalera was not a regular.

H. Cripps was so mad Sunday evening. Derbus wasn't good enough.

B. McGrath reads Cris Crusty. H. Toledo wanted to play so bad.

J. Smythe and F. Sheehy are so much alike. Vial won't be himself.

Pisson is so skinny. B. App is just the same as Pisson. M. Sandoz is putting on so much weight.

"Sito" won the popularity contest. J. Verges says he is just as good as Sito.

W. Ratignon will be a good rasher some day. B. App would make such a good four horn.

H. Redman would give anything for her picture. Big B. Quinn is called "Sweetness and Life."

R. Lawless is so dumb. Gus Anthony was that popular No. 1 Skeets is called "Kitty Higgins."

B. App was hungry Monday morning so he took his Rhetoric and placed it between two note books and started to eat. I bet it was delicious.

J. Sheehy is so popular. Cripps thinks he's so good. Garcia is so cute.

Gerchow was so mad a certain evening. Iwech is so rough.

"Tiny" Pisson is getting air-minded. B. Lawless is always broke.

Dillon is so energetic. T. Walsh needs a "wash." Vial got a haircut.

Redmann thinks he's so big. Gulotta and O. Dufilho are so chummy.

M. Sandoz and Dufilho don't want anymore. Hanson has only one eye.

"Chubby" Sandoz is such an authority on race horses. Ducasa goes wild, when he sees that certain nevrolet.

A. J. (Sonnyboy) Linam is such a "ladies man" and yet he bluffs when he even sees 'em.

Jarroux is still "pas epore." LaPeyronnie and Judin are inseparable, even in trouble.

Colvert thinks that he's a football man. Loch doesn't realize how good he really is.

Daigle is hunting for a beefsteak. Roth wasn't feeling so hot Monday evening.

Everyday is "wife-day" for Weatherford. Talley got sick all of a sudden during a "much competition."

Aylesworth doesn't rate so hot with a certain blonde. Ty Cobb can't do without his weekly fight.

Hickman's fan-mail ain't what it used to be. Alaimo and Bruzeau, prefer beefsteaks, in fact, the same brand.

Laborde doesn't let a cat lick that out of his. Richarme looks so ferocious with his little nose-guard.

DePecarpio always comes out second best in his love affairs. Newman controls the "shoe shop racket" around the campus.

Stouling has cut down on his daily "bon-bon diet." Kevin also resolves that "diarrhea" must be fewer, and butts must be longer.

Jesse can make more noise without his accordion. Ames can't even keep up with his shadow.

The rest of the student body doesn't do something exciting and give the author some new materia.

POSSIBLY FEW KNOW NAMES AND DATES OF CITY OF BAY ST. LOUIS

How Many Know of the Minor Yet Interesting Events in City—Dates of Improvements and Other Data That Seemingly One Should Be Familiar With?

The history—or that is, all of the history—of a town, city or community, is never all set down in the records one will find in the history books. It is doubtful if there is any town, city or community, which has ever undertaken to set down an accurate record of the events transpiring there which mark its development year by year.

Bay St. Louis probably has no such record, and there is probably a lot of important happenings in and around here which have had much to do with its progress which few, if any, can tell definitely about. They may know in a general way when, they may know that, took place, and in a general way may be able to tell about it. But to get right down to the actual facts, there are few who could give accurate information.

For this character of historical data, almost every town usually relies upon some particular citizen who takes a special interest in such things. Folks who like to keep tabs on events in this way, sometimes set these happenings down in note books to be referred to in years to come. Some rely entirely upon their memory, but are able to discuss them fairly intelligently if the occasion arises.

Now Bay St. Louis is probably regarded as an average town of its size in the country, and its advancement has been marked in a large measure by similar happenings which have taken place in other towns. Yet it is doubtful if there are many citizens here who could tell you off hand when certain events took place. Yet these events are just as important in the history of the place as would be the fighting of a great battle, or some other historic event which would find its way into the history books of the nation, and certainly of this particular state.

Just for instance now, let's test your knowledge of the more or less commonplace things which have taken place here. They are called commonplace now, because they are found so generally everywhere one may go. However at the time they came into being they were regarded as of signal importance, and truly for they have played a large part in the general advancement of civilization.

How many of the readers of The Echo can tell us just when the first telephone was installed here, and where? There are numbers of them now, but the installation of the first instrument was an important event in the history of this place.

How many can tell when the first automobile arrived and who was its owner?

How many can tell when electric lights were first installed in the homes here, and when electric power was first offered for use in running motors for manufacturing purposes?

How many can tell us when the L. & N. Railroad was first built through here?

How many can tell us about the telegraph and when it was first used as a means of communication in and out of Bay St. Louis?

How many can tell who was the first mayor of Bay St. Louis? First mayor of Waveland? How long since Bay St. Louis and Waveland have been separate municipalities?

And who can tell the exact year when the great seawall was built, and even as recent an event, what year was the three-quarter of a million dollars Bay St. Louis auto bridge completed and dedicated.

What share did Hancock county pay as compared to Harrison's share and what amount did the federal government give?

And why is the auto bridge free of toll?

When was the new county courthouse built and what did it cost? How were the funds realized? This and many other interesting questions are pertinent to this article.

There are any number of this character which most of us have passed up in the mad rush of development and have or are now, paying but little heed to.

It would be very interesting to everyone here to make a list of just such things as these and test his memory of when he first knew them to be in use in Bay St. Louis. They may not be regarded of much consequence just now, yet they have had much to do with the progress of this town, and the advancement of its people, commercially, educationally, socially and every other way.

CURRENT COMMENT

THE Japanese and Chinese are going at each other in real war-like fashion in Manchuria. The question is whether or not Russia will be drawn into the fracas. Japan is not particularly interested in having to cross swords with Russia. China might not object to the entrance of Russia into the war, since her chances of winning Russian friendship are better than those of Japan. Russia has her five year plan to absorb all of her energies at home, and is willing to keep her fingers out of the pie, if possible. However it goes, there is business on hand for the League of Nations and for the advocates of pre-war, war, and post-war difficulties.

BY MEANS OF PICK AND SHOVEL.

Another mythical estate, awaiting heirs to claim it, is being advertised and exploited as a means for extracting coin from the gullible. Of all money making hoaxes, the unclaimed estate is the hardest to kill, having many times the nine lives of the curdy cat. The only estate definitely waiting for anyone is the great mass of real estate called the earth, and the heir will get his portion, not by court, process, but by means of pick and shovel.

STRANGE WORKING OF AFFAIRS SOMETIMES HELP.

The records show that more than three hundred undesirable aliens, whom the government wished to deport, have been killed off in gang warfare. A bad man who sneaks into a country where he is not wanted, of course does not deserve to be shot on general principles, and no one would attempt to justify gang homicides on any ground, yet it happens that in the strange working of the affairs of this world, some good has come from the operation of the extremely hateful agency mentioned. On the other hand, no one can be proud of the fact that immigration laws were enforced by thugs.

MEXICO AS SECOND RATE POWER DONE.

Mexico has complained now and then about the lack of respect tendered her by the United States. Times have changed in Mexico. She has recognized the things that make for national greatness, and perfected herself accordingly. The baseball nine of Mexico City has trimmed the nine of Dallas, Texas to the tune of 9 to 3. The day of looking down upon Mexico as a second rate power is done.

ANYONE LIKELY TO MAKE A SLIP.

Boston is in trouble. On a World War memorial lately erected in that city, was the words "conspicuously" and "intrepidity" are found to be misspelled. The first impulse is to deride Boston's culture and suggest the old-fashioned spelling bee, but anyone is likely to make a slip. Her more serious offense is participating in the common practice of loading up votive stones with words of thundering sound. The attention of designers of war memorials is courteously directed to a bramble-hidden marker that was discovered in the South some years ago. It was inscribed only with the words: "A Georgia Volunteer."

GOOD DEAL OF MONEY— NO DOUBT REASONABLE.

A doctor who charged a sick man twenty-eight thousand dollars for one hundred and sixty-five visits, is explaining his bill in the probate court. The sum of twenty-eight thousand dollars seems like a good deal of money, but no doubt the charge was reasonable, and as easily explained as the fee of the surgeon. He wrote, in response to a request for an itemized statement: "To repairing and resetting 1 1/2 yards of intestine at $200 per yard, $300."

GROWING FUR AS AN IN- DUSTRY DEMONSTRATED IN LOCAL MARSHLANDS

I. V. Colly, Local Passenger Agent for L. & N. R. R. Co., Fences Thirty Acres Marshland Between Lakeshore and Clermont Harbor and Is Propagating Muskrats For Fur Market.

The low marsh lands along the Gulf Coast can be made very profitable in raising muskrats and other fur bearing animals, which is being demonstrated by I. V. Colly, local Passenger Agent, L. & N. R. R., Biloxi, Miss.

About two years ago Mr. Colly and several members of his family decided to fence about 30 acres of marsh land, which is adjoining the Louisville and Nashville Railroad between Clermont Harbor and Lakeshore, Miss., and owned by his mother and father and Carlos Ladner. In order to do this it was necessary to fence about 50 or 60 acres of ground, which was fenced with one-inch mesh poultry wire fencing and bulk headed across the marsh land, which was quite an undertaking. They then secured about 250 rats from local trappers and stocked their farm, and from the present indications Mr. Colly expects to take out several thousand muskrats this winter.

The muskrats are very fast breeders and feed on grass roots and other vegetation and are strictly vegetarians, therefore do not require any feeding. The Louisiana State Bulletin gives them an average of 20 to 30 to each pair per year, while the Government Bulletin gives them an even higher average per year.

There are hundreds of muskrat farms located in the north which are very profitable and the trappers of Louisiana average from 6 to 10 million dollars per year on the open marshes of the Louisiana swamp lands, which is considered one of the important industries of that State. There is no reason why the low marsh lands of Mississippi cannot be used to the same advantage, in fact, there are a number of trappers in Mississippi that have been making their living in trapping during the winter months.

The muskrat has been one of the chief factors in maintaining a high value for our annual production and in commercial importance now leads the list of fur bearers in the United States. They thrive better in low marshy or swamp lands and around streams and lakes, where they have a ready supply of fresh water, and their general habits are similar to that of the beaver family, building their houses or beds from grass and roots, which they cut and pile in small mounds.

The muskrats are also raised in small pens, which of course requires more attention and have to be fed and watered daily. Mr. Colly will be glad to furnish additional information to anyone interested and will also be in a position to supply live breeding rats in any quantity, to anyone who may be interested in going into this business.

Mr. Colly is originally a resident of the Lakeshore district and personally acquainted with that section. The project should succeed.

Aid for War Veterans

More than 430,000 ex-service men and their families were aided through 3,008 Red Cross Chapters and the national organization during the year ending June 30, 1931. Dependent families were cared for, veterans' claims were filed, hospitalization obtained and many other services given. Part of each contribution during the American Red Cross annual roll call, Armistice Day to Thanksgiving Day goes toward supporting this vital work for veterans of the World War and other wars in which the United States has engaged.

Indemnity + Prevention =
Insurance

More than Indemnity

Your fire insurance dollar provides far more than you realize. Of course it protects you from financial loss in case of fire. But it does so much more that it ranks as one of the most effective dollars you spend.

Merely as indemnity, Stock Fire Insurance is one of the cheapest necessities. Its average rate has consistently declined for more than 20 years, until in 1930 it reached the lowest figure in all American fire insurance history.

STOCK FIRE INSURANCE

teaches better building practices—furnishes a service for the suppression of arson, another for the improvement of community fire defenses and conducts many general fire prevention activities, all of which have contributed to the reduction of fire waste and the loss of life by fire.

MILK FUND GETS BIG BOOST

Substantial Amount of Cash
Realized at Two Benefits
For P.-T. A. Enterprise.

One hundred and twenty-five dollars is the approximate net amount resulting from the Zander-Gump wedding entertainment given at the Bay Hi auditorium last Thursday evening, benefit milk fund, Bay St. Louis P.-T. A. And twenty-five dollars was the net result of the football game on Armistice Day sponsored by the American Legion Hancock county post.

With this amount, executives say it will be possible to pay for milk for the school undernourished for the next six months, and ladies in charge are thankful and appreciative for the money thus realized.

The entertainment proved a big attraction, showing to a full house. In addition a number of people were unable to gain admission and saw the performance from outside. The management in charge and participants are complimented for their splendid work and congratulated for the success which marked their efforts.

The comic characters were cleverly portrayed and seemingly no detail seemed to have been overlooked. Everyone present enjoyed the entertainment and in addition to getting more than their money's worth helped a worthy cause. The cast was an unusually large one and included many of our more prominent men and women, evidenced their willingness to help the affair and its object. The program is too lengthy to republish here, and space would not permit to particularize even though the temptation to single out the number of clever impersonations and clever lines is hard to resist.

Mrs. Regina Logan, local president P.-T. A. was active in the cause and ably assisted.

BUMPER PECAN CROP NOT SO LARGE WHEN EVENLY DISTRIBUTED

Millions Have Never Seen
Improved Pecan, and 1931
Crop Means Less Than
One Pound For Each
Person in U. S.

If all the improved pecans produced in America this year were equally divided among the country's population each person would receive something like ten nuts; and if the remaining seedling pecans were equally divided each person would receive about one-half pound. That is the extent of the so-called pecan over-production and vividly illustrates the necessity of more thoroughly introducing the South's great delicacy to the people of the United States, according to J. C. Holton, commissioner of agriculture.

"The recent federal estimate of 75 million pounds of pecan this year indicates the second largest crop in history and has already occasioned low prices, glutted markets and visions of a large carryover. In actuality our pecan production is negligible for the entire production this year will amount to only three-fourths pounds for each person in the United States. Assuming that we will equal the 1928 record of 17 million pounds of improved nuts and that these improved varieties will average sixty nuts per pound, this record production divided among the population will mean ten improved pecans for each person in the United States.

"The situation in Mississippi is somewhat comparable. Our production of pecans this year, if distributed among the 2 million inhabitants of Mississippi, would mean something like one pound of improved pecans for each person in the state.

"There is every reason for the continued expansion of the pecan-producing program. There is probably no nut as desirable because of high food content and because of the great variety of its usage, alone and combined with other foods. The production of pecans in Mississippi means the utilization of natural resources and will provide profitable
